Hawaiian Electric fundraiser cookbook now available All proceeds to benefit Aloha United Way

HONOLULU, Nov. 2, 2018 – Watt’s Cookin’ – Hawaiian Electric Favorites is a 143-page recipe collection just published by Hawaiian Electric employees as a fundraiser for Aloha United Way, the nonprofit organization providing services for Hawai’i’s most vulnerable populations. The cookbook includes more than 110 recipe favorites from employees along with energy saving tips for the home cook. Priced at $14, Watt’s Cookin’ comes with a foldable stand and spiral bound top for easy flipping to your favorite recipe.

“With seven categories, this is a recipe collection to be enjoyed all year round,” said Kerstan Wong, Hawaiian Electric’s AUW cookbook lead coordinator. “From tutu’s favorites and savory sweets to potlucks and more, our employees also share some amusing stories, memories and tips about their favorite recipes to bring a personal touch to the cookbook.”

To purchase a copy, visit Hawaiian Electric Customer Service at 1001 Bishop Street, American Savings Bank Tower ground floor, Monday – Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., except holidays. Order forms also are available for download at www.hawaiianelectric.com/AUWcookbook or by calling 543-7622 to place an order by phone. Shipping and handling charges will be applied to mailed copies.

Just in time for the holidays, gift-wrapped copies of the cookbook also are available at these craft fairs* around O’ahu:
